Preface to the Twelfth Edition

After the publication of the last Eleventh edition of the Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules on 7th November, 2019, these rules have undergone some further changes in the year 2021. Out of which, the important changes are as follows :-

Rule 6 of Legislative Assembly Rules provides for "Election of Speaker" and Rule 7 provides for "Election of Deputy Speaker". The Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules were amended on 23rd December, 2021 so as to provide for the election of the Speaker / Deputy Speaker on the lines of the procedure adopted in the Lok Sabha, Rajya Sabha and also in the Maharashtra Legislative Council Rules by moving a motion for electing the Speaker / Deputy Speaker and deciding the same, if required, by division.

These changes were published in the Maharashtra Government Gazette dated 23rd December, 2021.

All the necessary changes made after the publication of the Eleventh edition are incorporated in this Twelfth edition of the Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules.

As it was felt that a review of previously published eleven editions would prove to be useful, the same has been incorporated in this edition under the title "Review of previous eleven editions."

PREFACE TO THE ELEVENTH EDITION

The Tenth edition of Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules published on 20th January 2015 was subjected to revision in the year 2016 and 2018. Some of the significant amendments made therein are as given below—

Under the Maharashtra Language of the State Act, 1964, 'Marathi' has been adopted as language of the State for all Government business. In order to encourage use of Marathi language in all fields, a review was conducted in the State Government/Semi-Government offices in respect of how the said language is used thereat. Thereafter, a motion was moved by the Hon. Minister for Marathi Language to constitute a joint committee on Marathi language comprising members from both the Houses of Legislature. The said committee was to suggest measures to be adopted by the State Government with regard to use of Marathi language. The aforesaid motion was passed by the House on 17th December 2015. Accordingly, the Committee on Rules of Legislative Assembly was entrusted with the task of defining the scope and framing the rules of the said Committee on Marathi language. The Committee on Rules deliberated upon the subject and then came up with appropriate revisions in Rules.

The said rules were published in the Gazette of Maharashtra Government issued on 11th April 2016.

A Committee on Women's Rights and Welfare has been constituted in the Legislature with the object to examine status of women's rights and welfare in the State and make appropriate recommendations to the Government on the subject. However, the subject of children's rights and their protection was left out of the said Committee's purview even though there is a department dedicated to the development of women and children in Government of Maharashtra. Taking into account these facts, a motion was moved by the then Hon. Speaker of Maharashtra Legislative Assembly to incorporate the subject of children's rights and protection in the scope of Committee on Women's Rights and Welfare. The said motion was passed by the House on 13th December 2013 the Committee on Rules of Legislative Assembly was entrusted with the task of defining the scope and framing the rules of the said Committee on Women's Rights and Welfare. The Committee on Rules deliberated upon the subject and then came up with appropriate revisions in Rules.

The said rules were published in the Gazette of Maharashtra Government issued on 27th April 2018.

- A decision was taken in a meeting of the Business Advisory Committee held on 22nd June 2011 and 16th November 2011 that, unless the Hon. Speaker, Maharashtra Legislative Assembly, directs otherwise, the sittings of House shall ordinarily commence, from Monday to Friday, at 11-00 hours and conclude at 18-00 hours. Rule 4(2) of the Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules was then amended accordingly.

- Earlier, replies given to Un-starred Questions were tabled in the House and thereafter they were inserted in the list of questions and answers in order to print, publish and distribute it to the members. However, now, a decision has been taken that, when the Assembly is not in the session and even if the answers of Un-starred Questions are not laid on the Table of the Assembly even then, the Hon. Speaker may direct to print, publish, circulate as well as distribute them to the members within 40 days. In this respect, such answers of Un-starred Questions shall be laid on the Table of the House at a convenient time in the first week of the next session. Rule 72 (2) of the Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules was then amended accordingly.

- Marathi Language Committee is being constituted with the object of issuing instructions and suggesting measures to State Government after conducting a review as to how Marathi language is being used in official business and after inspecting whether offices of District Collectors are vigilantly watching whether Marathi is being used strictly in the official business of Government / Semi-Government offices in the State as well as in offices of Authorities and Corporations controlled by the Government. Rule 244 of the Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules is being amended accordingly.

The said rules were published in the Gazette of Maharashtra Government issued on 11th April 2016.

- A Committee on Women's Rights and Welfare has been constituted in the Legislature with the object to examine status of women's rights and welfare in the State and make appropriate recommendations to the Government on the subject. However, the subject of children's rights and their protection was left out of the said Committee's purview. Considering the said fact the subject of children's rights and protection was incorporated in the purview of the Committee on Women's Rights and Welfare and the title of the Committee has been revised to "Committee on Rights and Welfare of Women and Child." Accordingly, appropriate amendment has been made after sub-rule (4) of Rule 244 of Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules.

The said rules were published in the Gazette of Maharashtra Government issued on 27th April 2018.

All the aforesaid amendments were incorporated in Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules after they were published in their Tenth edition and they have also been incorporated in this Eleventh edition now.

As it was deemed useful to take a review of all the past Tenth editions on this occasion, a "review of last Tenth editions" has been inserted after this preface."

PREFACE TO THE TENTH EDITION

After the publication 9th edition of the Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules in October, 2009. These rules have undergone some further changes in the year 2010. Out of which the important changes are as follows :—

The limitation of period during which the Government has to send replies to un-starred questions rule-wise has been fixed as three months. Presently, a decision has been taken in a meeting of Business Advisory Committee to send replies to un-starred questions within a period of sixty days instead of three months. However, at the time of approving the draft report of the Committee in the meeting dated 13th July 2010, the Committee decided that the replies to un-starred questions be sent within a period of thirty days instead of three months and necessary amendment was made in Legislative Assembly Rule 72(2).

- A discussion was held in Business Advisory Committee's meeting incidental to the information received in contest of an amendment made by Rajya Sabha in their rules regarding authorization to ask questions. There is provision in Legislative Assembly Rule 84 (3) that " If, on a question being called, it is not asked or the member in whose name it stands is absent, the Speaker may at the request of the Minister, direct that the answer to it be given ". With regard to this rule, the Rajya Sabha has amended their rule 54 (3) that, " If on a question being called it is not put or the member in whose name it stands is absent, the Chairman shall direct that the answer to it be given." Accordingly, necessary amendment has been made in Legislative Assembly Rule 84 (3).

- Rajya Sabha has amended Rule 54 (3) pertaining to "authorization to ask questions" that, " If on a question being called it is not put or the member in whose name it stands is absent, the Chairman shall direct that the answer to it be given." There is a provision in Legislature Assembly Rules 88 that, " A member who is likely to be absent may authorise another member to ask starred questions tabled by him, on his behalf. In such a case, he shall immediately intimate to the Secretary in writing the name of the member who has been authorised to ask his questions. Subject to the provisions of rule 84 if the member who has tabled the starred question is not present in the Assembly when it was called and if he has not authorised any other member in writing to ask it, the question shall be treated as an unstarred question." However, since the Rajya Sabha has amended the rule, according to that proposed amendment was made in Legislative Assembly rule 84 (3). Accordingly the necessary amendment was made in Legislative Assembly Rule 88.

- The Rajya Sabha has amended their Rule 54 (3) that, " If on a question being called it is not put or the member in whose name it stands is absent, the Chairman shall direct that the answer to it be given." Since an amendment has been proposed in Legislative Assembly Rule 84 (3) that, " If on a question being called it is not put or the member in whose name it stands is absent, the Speaker shall direct that the answer to it be given," the Legislative Assembly Rule 89 has been dropped accordingly.

- Hon. Minister of State for Parliamentary Affairs had moved a motion on 14th December, 2009 to constitute a joint committee of both the Houses of the Legislature by name "Committee on Minority Welfare ". The Objectives of the Committee were : to bring co-ordination among various welfare schemes being implemented by the State Government for development of minorities (Muslims, Buddhists, Christians, Sikhs, Parsis and Jains), to effect an all-round development of these communities by bringing about effective monitoring, to make effective implementation of various schemes floated by the Government on the concerned regional office. to examine whether the people belonging to the aforementioned communities have received direct or indirect benefit of the said schemes, shortcomings found in the implementation of Government schemes, whether the set goals were accomplished or not, to present a report and information in this regard to both Houses, to suggest measures after considering the report of Maharashtra State Minority Commission etc. The House had passed the said motion. It had become necessary to amend the Legislative Assembly Rules with a view to constitute such a Committee as per the motion passed by the House. Accordingly, necessary amendments were made in the rules for inserting Rule no. 244 O and 244 P as proposed by the Secretariat.

All the aforesaid amendments were published in Maharashtra State Gazette on 23rd August, 2010.

After publication of the ninth edition, all the aforesaid amendments made in Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules have been incorporated in the tenth edition.

Since it was felt that a review of the previous nine editions published priorly might prove useful, a " review of previous nine editions " has been included in this edition.

PREFACE TO THE NINTH EDITION

After the publication of the last eighth edition of the Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules in October, 2003, these rules have undergone some further changes in 2003 and 2008. Out of which the important changes are as follows :—

The State Government has accepted the policy of giving facilities to the Other Backward Classes according to the Mandal Commission. From that point of view the House passed the motion moved by the Hon. Minister for Welfare of Vimukta Jatis, Nomadic Tribes and Other Backward Classes regarding constitution of a Joint Committee of both the Houses of Legislature viz. “ Committee on the Welfare of Other Backward Classes” on the lines of Committee on the Welfare of Scheduled Castes and Other equivalent committees in the Legislature on 25th July 2003 to make through study as to whether the Other Backward Classes get adequate representation/opportunities in educational institutions and statutory bodies and similarly in other fields or not, by taking review of the measures adopted by the Central and State Government in this regard and also to suggest measures in respect of making available adequate and equal opportunities in all fields and to see as to whether the policies adopted by Government are implemented or not, and the matter of deciding jurisdiction of the Committee and Framing the rules was referred to the Committee on Rules of the Legislative Assembly. Accordingly, the said matter was submitted for the consideration of the committee on Rules and necessary amendment was made in the Rules.

These changes were published in the Maharashtra Government Gazette, dated 15th December, 2003.

Considering the increasing responsibilities on the Maharashtra Government and increasing expectations of the people from it, the overall burden of work on the ministers of certain department has been increased. In such circumstances, it is necessary to create the post of Parliamentary Secretary to enable the ministers to carry out their duties effectively. Discussion was held from that point of view in the cabinet meeting held on Sunday, the 14th December 2008. As per the directions given by the cabinet, the relevant amendment was submitted to the Committee on Rules of Maharashtra Legislative Assembly for making amendment in the Legislative Assembly Rules and Legislative Council Rules for excluding the office of “Parliament Secretary” from the definition of “Minister” to create the post of “ Parliamentary Secretary ” of the minister in Maharashtra State, accordingly necessary amendment is made in the concerned rule.

As per the provision in present rule the business hours of the Legislative Assembly is 5 hours. However, it is noticed that this period is insufficient considering the business before the House, and almost daily this period is required to be extended. Unofficial discussion on this issue was also held in the Business Advisory Committee and the Members of the Committee have also suggested that necessary amendment should be made in the rules in view of starting the meeting of the House early. Accordingly, the said amendment was submitted for consideration of the Committee on Rules and necessary amendment has been made in it.

Since amendments to the motion of thanks on the Hon'ble Governor's Address are received from almost all members in recent time and there is no clear provision in the rule about how many amendments may be given by one member, it is noticed that such amendments are being received on large scale from last few years. It is essential to distribute the copies of such amendments to the Hon'ble members as well as to the ministerial departments on the day fixed for the discussion and before the commencement of the meeting of the House. Since the time available for this work is limited, the sets of these amendments could be prepared before the commencement of the meeting of the House on next day only if the manpower in the Legislature Secretariat is fully and continuously utilised without returning home at night also. Taking into account the manpower, material being utilised for and outcome of it, it is necessary to put restrictions on such amendments. Accordingly necessary amendment has been made in the concerned rule.

The limit of number for accepting notices of Half-an-hour discussion from the Hon'ble members is not mentioned anywhere in rule 94. It is not mentioned clearly anywhere in the rule that the ballot of those notices which are admitted should be held notice-wise or member-wise. However, since the word 'notices' is mentioned in the rule, it is presumed that the said ballot should be held notice-wise. Now the ballot of the notices of Half-an-hour discussion (General and arisen out of questions) is drawn on the computer and hence it is taken notice wise. Since there is no limit on the number of Half-an-hour discussion, all admitted notices are taken in ballot and there is possibility that many a time both notices drawn from the ballot are of same member. Many Hon'ble members have taken objection in this regard. Therefore, it is utmost necessary to clarify the provision in the rules. Therefore, necessary amendment has been made in the concerned rule for getting opportunity to two different members without drawing two notices of Half-an-hour discussion in the name of one member from the ballot.

Non-official Bills are lapsed after one year period and new motion is required to be moved in this regard. It is very arduous work to prepare and admit the notice of non-official bills. Therefore, it is necessary to make amendment in the concerned rule to avoid lapsing of the non-official Bills till the completion of the term of the members. Accordingly, necessary amendment has been made in the concerned rule.

The number of Members of both the committees i.e. the Committee on Welfare of Scheduled Castes and the Committee on Welfare of Scheduled Tribes is fifteen. However, the number of Members on Committee on Welfare of Vimukta Jatis and Nomadic Tribes is only seven. The functions of the above three Committees are almost same. Hence, it is necessary that the number of members on these three Committees should be identical. Accordingly, the necessary amendment has been made in the concerned rule.

Earlier, there was limitation of giving 10 cut motions for one department on the demands in the Budget and the Supplementary demands. That limitation was relaxed in the meeting of Business Advisory Committee held on 28th March, 1989 and the decision was taken that the members may give maximum 5 cut motions on each subject of the departments and this decision was read out in the House on same day. Thereafter, Parliamentary Affairs Department has issued circular in this respect on 30th March, 1989. The number of sub-division of each department is mentioned in the booklet viz. "Subjects entrusted to the ministerial departments of the Maharashtra Government". As mentioned above, each member can give 5 notices of cut motions on each sub-divisional subject of each department. At the beginning the notices of cut motions were within the prescribed limit. If action is not taken in respect of the additional notices of cut motions, then the instance of making complaints to the Hon'ble Speaker by the members is increased and consequently the abovementioned circular of the Parliamentary Affairs Department is not implemented.

Notices of cut motions from the members are accepted upto 5-00 p.m. as per order of priority. Thereafter these notices are scrutinized departmentwise firstly and then they are scrutinised as per the amount of demands. Accordingly, notices are put serially. Then after going through the subject of each notice, they are submitted for the orders of the Hon'ble Speaker for approval or disapprove of the notices as per criterion. The list of admitted notices is get typed and sent to the Government printing press for printing. On the day previous to the day of discussion and voting, printed copies of the notices of admitted cut motions are called from the press and distributed to the Hon'ble members on the day of, discussion. Only four days period is available for doing all this process on the notices of cut motion. Some times the period of accepting the cut motions is extended on insistence of the members. As a result less period remains to take action as mentioned above.

Considering the situation mentioned above in the context of the cut motions and increasing numbers of cut motions day by day, it was felt necessary to amend the concerned rule to restrict the number of cut motions. Accordingly, necessary amendment has been made in the concerned rule.

Previously maximum 8 to 10 points were raised by one or two members for discussion on Appropriation Bill. Since the number of points to be raised were limited, it was possible to take action immediately within prescribed period of one hour period on such received points and action to pass the Appropriation Bill in the House was taken out without delay.

However, the number of members giving points on the Appropriation/ Supplementary Appropriation Bills and similarly the number of points are increasing day by day. Members may give notice of the points one hour before the commencement of the meeting of House on that day. Considering the increasing number of points of discussion, difficulties are faced in doing the work like typing the list of points by scrutinizing the points received, to submit the matter to the Hon. Speaker for approval, to submit the list of points to the Hon'ble Minister for finance, Secretary to finance and concerned members/officers in the House within such a short period. To facilitate to take action on the said notices, it is very necessary to put restriction on the number of such points to some extent as well as to increase short period of one hour for giving notices on such points upto 5-00 p.m. on previous day. Accordingly necessary amendment has been made in the concerned rule.

At present, number of the member on the Committee on Privileges is eleven and three members are required for the quorum. If the meeting of the Committee is adjourned for the want of quorum, it affects the working of the Committee. Therefore, it is necessary to increase the number of members of the Committee. Accordingly, the necessary amendment has been made in the concerned rule.

As no particular day is fixed for the discussion on No-day yet-Named motion, the Hon'ble Speaker allots time for discussion on such motion after consultation with the leader of the House. But no discussion is held in the House through this device. Therefore, necessary amendment has been made in respect of stopping the practice of admitting No-day-yet-Named motion permanently.

The abovementioned changes were published in the Maharashtra Government Gazette on 9th March, 2009.

After the publication of the 8th edition, all the aforesaid changes in the Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules have been incorporated in this edition.

PREFACE TO FIFTH EDITION

This is the Fifth Edition of the Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules. In the context of the publication of this new edition, it will be of interest to take a general survey of the far reaching changes which the rules have undergone since the advent of the Constitution of India. These successive changes mark the definite steps taken in the process of evolving a procedure and procedural forms in accordance with the accepted and well recognised principles of Parliamentary Practice and Procedure.

After the commencement of the Constitution of India, the Legislative Assembly Rules which were already in force were modified and adapted by the Speaker by virtue of the powers conferred on him by Article 208(2) of the Constitution, and the rules so adopted were published in the Bombay Government Gazette*. Subsequently, the Legislative Assembly appointed a committee in July 1952 to frame rules under Article 208(1) of the Constitution and the rules as finally adopted by the Assembly, were published in Bombay Government Gazette, dated 30th April, 1953.

2. The reorganisation of States on 1st November 1956 brought in its wake some significant changes in the Rules. On 24th July, 1957, the Speaker appointed a Committee of 21 members to recommend any adoptions or modifications that the rules may require. The Committee, after studying the rules of various State Legislative Assemblies and also taking into consideration the rules of the Lok Sabha, unanimously recommended to the Speaker some changes in the rules. The speaker accepted those recommendations and incorporated them in the rules acting under the powers vested in him by section 32 of the State Reorganisation Act, 1956. The said adaptations and modifications were notified in the Bombay Government Gazette**.

It maybe of interest to state here briefly some of the important adaptations and modifications then introduced in the Rules. The question-procedure was revised so as to secure their more expeditious disposal. The new rules provided for the Constitution and working of four more Committees of the Legislature viz., the Rules Committee, the Business Advisory Committee, the Committee on Private Members' Bills and Resolutions and the Committee on Subordinate Legislation. Representation to the members of the Council also was given on the Committee on Subordinate Legislation, the Public Accounts Committee and the Estimates Committee. Parliamentary devices, such as notices for discussion for short duration on matters of urgent public importance and for calling attention to such matters, were also introduced in the rules for the first time.

The First Edition of the Rules, containing these adaptations and modifications was published in February, 1958.

3. As provided under Section 32 of the States Reorganisation Act, 1956, the Rules thus adapted by the Speaker were to remain in force until rules were made by the Assembly under Article 208(1) of the Constitution. It was, therefore, necessary for the House to make rules in pursuance of the provision of that Article. Advantage was taken of this position to consider further changes in the rules. The Speaker nominated a committee for this purpose which suggested further amendments to the rules. It submitted its first and final reports to the House on 14th August 1959 and 8th September 1959, respectively. Both these reports were approved by the House and the rules together with the amendments as recommended by the Committee were adopted by it under Article 208(1) of the Constitution, on the 10th September 1959. The rules as amended were notified in the Bombay Government Gazette*.

Some of the more important changes then made in the rules were that two more new Committees, viz., the Committee on Government Assurances and the Committee on Absence of Members from the Sittings of the House, were constituted. A new general chapter on Committees containing general provisions applicable to the working of all Committees was also inserted on the lines of the- Lok Sabha Rules. The new rules empowered the Speaker to treat a Starred Question as Unstarred while admitting it in certain circumstances. Other changes included a provision to enable the House to suspend temporarily, if necessary, the operation of any rule or rules ; provision regarding registration of members ; defining the scope of petitions procedure for sending intimation of arrests, etc. of members to the Speaker ; and procedure for giving certified copies of speeches, statements, etc. made in the House.

The Second Edition of the Rules incorporating the changes mentioned above was brought out in November, 1959.

4. Since the publication of the 2nd Edition of the Rules, the said rules underwent further changes. There was another reorganisation of States in 1960. The Speaker then referred the question of further changes, if any, in the rules to the Rules Committee in June 1960. The Committee accordingly submitted its first and final reports to the House on the 8th August, 1960 and 19th August, 1960, respectively. Both these reports were approved by the House and the rules together with amendments as recommended in the two reports were adopted by it under article 208(1) of the Constitution on 23rd August 1960. The rules so adopted by the House were notified in the Gazette*.

The salient features of the amendments then introduced in the rules were that the two Financial Committees viz., the Estimates Committee and the Public Accounts Committee, would have a non-official as their Chairman instead of the Finance Minister who till then used to be the ex-officio Chairman of these Committees ; powers were given to these two Committees to call for persons, papers and records to facilitate examination of the subjects committed to their care. Further to conform to the correct parliamentary practice, the provision in the old rules, relating to the discussion of the report of these Committees was deleted. Another important change made in the rules was that the Lok Sabha pattern of question-procedure was introduced in the rules for the first time.

The Third Edition of the Rules incorporating the above mentioned changes was published in November, 1960.

* Vide Maharashtra Government Gazette, Part IV-A, dated the 17th September 1960.

5. Since the publication of the last edition in November, 1960, the rules have undergone changes twice once in 1962 and again in 1966 :—

(i) In 1961-62, some suggestions were received for amending the rules and were considered by the Rules Committee in June, 1962. The Committee submitted its report to the Assembly in 1962 and after approval by the Assembly, the amendments as recommended by the Committee were notified and brought into force with effect from 31st July, 1962.

The main amendments made in 1962 were that provision was made that leave to withdraw a motion should be signified not upon a question put by the Speaker but by taking the pleasure of the House. A definite day, viz. Friday, was earmarked for transacting non-official business, and provision was also made for presenting the Budget in parts.

(ii) Thereafter, further suggestions were received for amending the rules. The Committee considered them in February-March, 1966 and submitted its report in March, 1966. The amendments, as recommended by the Committee and approved by the House, came into force from 2nd June, 1966.

The main features of these amendments were that provision was made to incorporate a revised procedure in regard to the passing of Bills, similar to the procedure followed in Lok Sabha and other State Legislatures. The Speaker's permission would now be necessary for publishing any Bill (other than a Money Bill) before introduction in the House. Further, a member would be able to send in more than 5 resolutions in a session under certain circumstances. The mover of a motion would now have the right of reply at the end and not before the Minister's reply, as earlier provided. Provision has also been made for the constitution of a new Committee on Public Undertakings on the lines of similar Committees in Parliament and some State Legislatures.

The Fourth Edition contained all the changes mentioned above.

Subsequently, in 1969 and 1970 the rules again underwent changes.* The important ones were, briefly as follows :—

The procedure for holding a ballot for determining relative precedence of resolutions would be held member-wise and not resolution-wise as before. The rule in regard to half-an-hour discussion was amended so as to allow discussion on any matter of sufficient public importance, not necessarily arising out of answers to questions alone. Such discussion could now take place on two days in a week i.e. Tuesday and Thursday instead of only on Wednesdays. New rules were framed laying down the procedure for dealing with the ratification of amendments of the Constitution. The term of office of members of the Public Undertakings Committee was brought down from five years to one year and it was also stipulated that a member having any pecuniary interest in any public undertaking should not be elected or continued as a member of the said Committee. In regard to matters relating to privileges the Speaker has been vested with the discretion to refer any matter to the House directly for its decision, where it lends itself to that course. Lastly, under the old rules, three hours on the last day of the Session could be allotted for discussion of a motion relating to a matter of public importance. This has been changed and now one whole day during the last week of every Session has been allotted for discussion of matters of public importance not exceeding four in number.

These changes came into force with effect from 1st January, 1971. The present edition incorporates all these changes and the rules have been renumbered serially.

PREFACE TO THE SIXTH EDITION

Since the publication of the last edition in February 1972 the Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules have undergone some further changes.

Consequent on the enhanced strength of the present House in 1978 the minimum number of members required for granting leave of the House under certain rules has been raised from 27 to 29.

In some of the Committees, viz. (i) Committee on Public Accounts, (ii) Committee on Estimates, (iii) Committee on Public Undertakings, (iv) Committee on Subordinate Legislation, (v) Committee on Government Assurances, (vi) Committee on Welfare of Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes, Vimukta Jatis and Nomadic Tribes and (vii) Committee on Panchayati Raj, Ministers were not to be elected or nominated as Members of Committee. Instead of having the provision in this regard repeated in different rules relating to various Committees it was thought advisable to have only one rule which would be applicable to all Committees and rule 162 was therefore amended for this purpose.

During the years 1976 to 1978 the Estimates Committee was undertaking pre-voting scrutiny of Budget Estimates and for this purpose the strength of the Committee was increased from 19 to 29 every year by means of separate motions, so that the Committee could divide itself into convenient groups for the study of Budget. The pre-voting scrutiny having come to stay it was felt necessary to make permanent provision for increased strength of membership and the relevant rule was therefore amended for this purpose.

The constitution as well as the functions of the three Legislature Committees viz. (i) Committee on Welfare of Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes, Vimukta Jatis and Nomadic Tribes, (ii) Committee on Panchayati Raj and (iii) Committee on Employment Guarantee Scheme, were governed by separate motions passed by the House from time to time. Provisions in regard to these Committees were made in Rules thereby avoiding the necessity of moving motion in this regard time and again.

The above changes came into force with effect from 1st August, 1978.* The present edition incorporates all these changes and the rules have been renumbered serially.

A comparative table is added at the end showing the rule numbers in the Fifth Edition and their corresponding new numbers in this edition.

PREFACE TO THE SEVENTH EDITION

Since the publication of the last edition in October 1979, the Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules have undergone further changes as follows :—

1. The lengthy electoral process for election of members to the important committees such as the Public Accounts Committee, Estimates Committee, Public Undertakings Committee, etc., was done away with and the powers was given to the Speaker to nominate members on all the Committees. While doing so, it was made incumbent on the Speaker to consult the Leader of the House, the Leader of Opposition and Leaders of recognised groups in order to safeguard that the representation on the Committees reflect the relative strength of various parties and groups in the House. Other important changes related to the increase in the strength of the Committees, the uniformity in the term of the Committees i.e. for a period of one year and the constitution of a separate Committee for Vimukta Jatis and Nomadic Tribes.

The above changes came into force with effect from 22nd April, 1981.*

2. When the Council Hall shifted to the new premises in a multi-storyed building it was felt that ringing of quorum or division bell for a period of three minutes or seven minutes as the case may be would be insufficient to ensure presence of members in the House as it was provided then. The Rules were, therefore, amended for ringing of bell for five minutes and at the discretion of the Speaker for a period lasting upto ten minutes.

The above changes came into force with effect from 31st August, 1981.**

3. In the new Vidhan Bhavan, Bombay electronic voting device was installed and in order to permit use of that device, rules, on the line of Lok Sabha rules, were made and they came into force with effect from 8th December, 1983. †

4. Subsequently, some minor amendments were also made to the rules viz., (i) the number of members required to rise for granting leave to a motion for removal of the Speaker was raised from 27 to 29 consequent upon the enhanced strength of the House ; (ii) the outdated reference in Rule 18 for half working days on Saturdays was deleted; (iii) in Rule 29 the notice for giving amendments to Bills was brought down to one day from two days ; (iv) in order to secure a speedy completion of Legislative business amendment was made for taking up different motions relating to a Bill earlier by reducing the period from ten to four days ; and (v) procedure for taking evidence before the Petitions Committee was brought on par with other Committees.

These changes came into force with effect from 15th December, 1983.*

The present edition incorporates all the changes referred to above and the rules have been renumbered serially.

A comparative table is added at the end showing the rule numbers in the Sixth Edition and their corresponding new numbers in this edition.

PREFACE TO THE EIGHTH EDITION

After the publication of the last seventh edition of the Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules in March 1985, these rules have undergone some further changes in 1995, 1998, 1999 and 2001. Out of which the important changes are as follows :—

Considering the fact that in spite of provision regarding timing of meetings of the House in Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules, there has been changes in the timing of meetings of the House as per practice since last few years and therefore it was felt necessary to make provision in rules itself in that regard instead of leaving such an important matter to be regulated by practice. Hence, the concerned rule have been amended suitably from that point of view.

Although very large number of notices of No-Day-Yet-Named motions are admitted, very few of them come up for discussion and remaining all notices lapse on prorogation. More over, inclusion of such notices in the list of business makes it very large and bulky. Considering all these matters, it was decided to print such notices separately and to keep only five motions admitted in a member's name throughout the term of Assembly and accordingly necessary changes have been made in the concerned rule.

Considering the fact that the Bills which have been introduced do not lapse after prorogation of the session, necessary changes have been made so that amendments suggested to such Bills also should not be lapsed.

Since it was felt necessary that the provision related to the notice period for raising the Half-an-Hour Discussion in rule should be explicit and it should make intention of the rules clear, necessary amendments have been made in concerned rules accordingly.

Looking to the manifold increase in Calling Attention Notices, it was felt necessary to raise the present number of such matters from two to three for being taken up for discussion every day and there should be provision prescribing time-limit for raising such matters, and therefore necessary amendments have been made in concerned rules accordingly.

The Government of Maharashtra has brought in force the provisions of Section 5 of the Maharashtra Official Languages Act, 1964 vide its Notification (GAD No. OFL. 1095/737/C.R. No. 36/95/20-B, dated the 14th August, 1995) with effect from the 15th day of August, 1995. Accordingly, from the said date, Marathi language is being used in the Bills to be introduced/ amendments to be moved before the House, as well as in all Acts passed by the State Legislature and in all Ordinances promulgated by the Governor of Maharashtra. Hence, considering this fact, it was felt necessary to make consequential changes in the concerned rules and therefore necessary amendments have been made in the concerned rules accordingly.

Since it was felt necessary that the time allotted for Guillotine should be reduced from two hours to half-an-hour in order to get more time for discussion on matters relating to financial business, necessary amendments have been made in concerned rules accordingly.

In order to get sufficient time to this Secretariat for examining the notices being given for raising points during discussion on Appropriation Bill as well as to make convenient to give advance copy in that regard to Honourable Minister, it was felt necessary to provide for time limit for giving such notices and therefore a necessary amendment has been made in concerned rule accordingly.

Considering the fact that since Deputy Speaker is an ex-officio Chairman of Committee on Petitions, that committee cannot conduct its business when the office of Deputy Speaker is vacant, and therefore it was felt necessary that there should be provision in Rules for nominating any member as an acting Chairman of the Committee in order to conduct the business of the Committee, even in the absence of Deputy Speaker. Hence necessary amendment was made in concerned rule accordingly.

These amendments came into force on 15th December, 1995.*

Thereafter few more changes were made in rules which are as follows :—

Taking into consideration demand being made by members since long time to reduce the period for giving notices regarding

Starred questions, provision of short period in Lok Sabha & other State Legislatures and similarly the present modern & advanced means of communication, it was felt that members will get answers early if the said period is reduced and therefore necessary changes have been made in concerned rule in order to reduce said period to 30 days.

Parliament has constituted "Parliamentary Committee on the Empowerment of Women," on 29th April, 1997, as per the resolution passed by both the Houses of the Parliament on the Occasion of International Women's Day on 8th March 1996. Since the matters related with Women's Welfare and other matters related thereto come within the preview of Government, the House has passed the motion moved by Honourable Minister for Parliamentary Affairs on 20th April, 1998, providing for the constitution of such type of committee of both the Houses also on state level. New rules for making necessary provisions have been inserted in order to constitute such important Committee and to commence its business at the earliest.

These amendments came into force on 28th December, 1998.*

Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules provides for the procedure regarding the allegation to be made against any person. Accordingly no allegation of a defamatory or incriminatory nature could be made by a member against any person unless the member has given a prior intimation to the Honourable Speaker and also to the concerned Minister. However, there was no provision of any fixed period as to when the prior notice regarding allegation may be given. Resultantly, such notices were being given in the nick of time or mostly when the House was in session. Similarly, these notices were ambiguous and necessary papers were also not being attached along with the notices. As these notices were being given in the nick of time, no sufficient time was being made available to Honourable Speaker to allow or disallow the notices by exercising the powers conferred to him under the proviso to Rule 35 of the Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules and the said matter was being raised in the House even though the allegation was derogatory to the dignity of the House and even baseless. Similarly, due to ambiguous nature of the said notices, concerned Ministers remained unaware regarding the allegations made through the said notice. Consequently, they were unable to give immediate reply thereon, and they were being deprived of natural justice.

Since Honourable Speaker and concerned Minister does not get sufficient time for investigating about allegation or for going through the concerned documents, they were causing inconvenience in that respect and there was danger of causing unnecessary defamation of concerned person as the necessary information could not be available immediately. Such allegation was being publicised widely by newspapers. However, injustice was being caused to a person on whom such allegations were made because he could not put forth his say in that regard immediately. In order to enable concerned Minister to give reply about allegation of a incriminatory nature by making proper investigation in that regard, an insistent demand was being made during the recent period on the basis of basic principle of natural justice that before making such allegation, prior notice alongwith the necessary documents in that regard should be given before one day to Honourable Speaker as well as to the concerned Minister. Considering all these matters, it was felt necessary that before making allegation against any person, the prior notice along with necessary documents in that regard should be given to the Honourable Speaker as well as to the concerned Minister upto 5.00 p.m. on the working day prior to a day on which the allegation is to be made in the House and an amendment has been made in the concerned rules accordingly.

After Independence, India has adopted Representative Parliamentary Democratic form of Government. In this form of Government, Executive i.e. Council of Minister is accountable to Legislature. For this purpose the Legislature has to keep control over the Executive. It is utmost necessary to keep through, effective as well as meaningful financial control and supervision over the Executive. Such financial control is kept by the various Parliamentary Committees consisting of selective Members of the House. The procedure of keeping control over Government by the committees is the core pith of Parliamentary form of Government.

However, considering the limitations falling upon the existing committees compared with their functioning, provisions in the rules, colossal increase in the scope of the administration, the substantial increase made in the budget on account of various schemes, these committees are falling short in commanding an effective, meaningful and adequate administrative and financial control over the executive. In other words, it could be safely said that their functioning is certainly confined within certain limitations. In order to have a better control of the Parliament and Legislature over the administration as well as an effective examination of various aspects of the administration, need of evolving a new and dynamic committee system was being felt necessary since last few years. It was due to this concept that an inclination was being expressed to strengthen the prevalent committee system through various parliamentary provisions. The concept of Department Related Standing Committees has originated from the idea of making this committee system dynamic, expeditious and strengthened. Time and again, an extensive deliberation was made in this regard in the conference of the Presiding Officers and a decision was taken in this conference to constitute Ad-hoc Budgetary Committees for the purpose of making a pre-voting scrutiny of the demands for grants of departments of all ministers. Accordingly, three committees were constituted in Lok Sabha in 1989.

Before implementing this system in Lok Sabha or in any other States, the system of Pre-Voting Budget Scrutiny was employed in our State in the year 1976-1977. At that time, the strength of members of the Estimates Committee was increased and its 5 Sub-Committees were formed and scrutiny of specific ministerial departments was vested with each of these Sub-Committees. After the reports prepared by the Sub-Committees were approved by the Estimates Committee, a consolidated report of the Committee was presented to the House. This system was adopted in context with the Budget for the years 1977-78, 1978-79 and 1979-80. Thereafter, this system was not adopted in the years from 1980-81 to 1986-87. However, the said system was readopted in the year 1987-88 and 1988-89. At that time the strength of the members of the Estimates Committee was raised to 40. However, this system was discontinued from 1989-90. On 8th April, 1993 total 17 Department related Standing Committees were constituted in Parliament of which, 11 belonged to the Lok Sabha and 6 belonged to the Rajya Sabha. At present, such Department related Standing Committees are in existence in 9 States of India viz. Karnataka, Goa, West Bengal, Kerala, Himachal Pradesh, Assam, Orissa, Meghalaya and Mizoram. On this background it was decided to adopt the system of Department related Standing Committees in Maharashtra Legislature from the Budget Session of the year 2002. Accordingly, new rules regarding Department related Standing Committees were inserted in the Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules.

The aforesaid changes were brought into force since 15th December, 2001.*

After the publication of the 7th edition, all the aforesaid changes in the Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Rules have been incorporated in this edition.
