Ms. Lohita explained that individuals have the right to protect their image, name, and reputation from unauthorized use, misrepresentation, or false endorsement by others. She elucidated over the concept further and explained, contracts play a significant role in defining and enforcing personality rights in India. Celebrities and public figures often enter into agreements with third parties to use their image for specific commercial purposes. These contracts outline the terms and conditions under which their image or name can be used, and any violation of these agreements can lead to legal action.

Further she explained that the states of Maharashtra and Tamil Nadu have enacted laws that recognize and protect an individual's right to control the commercial use of their name and image. She concluded by mentioning that it's important to note that the legal framework surrounding personality rights is continually evolving, and the level of protection may vary depending on the specific circumstances and jurisdiction within India. She discussed few cases explaining the judicial aspect on the topic. The session was interactive and Ms. Lohita answered all the queries.

The next session of the seminar was addressed by Ms. Sonal Chhablani Senior Associate, Saikrisna & Associates. She addresses the participants on the topic 'Chat GPT and its implications on Copyright Law. She explained the significance Copyright Infringement, Fair Use and Transformative Use, Ownership of AI-Generated Content, Attribution etc; Ms. Sonal explained that as AI technology advances and becomes more prevalent, copyright laws will likely need to evolve to address the unique challenges posed by AI-generated content. It is necessary to work on balancing the interests of creators, AI developers, and users of AI systems for developing a fair and effective legal framework. She elaborated various examples related to the topic and answered all the questions raised by the participants.

Virtual expert lecture on 'Introduction to Traditional Knowledge and Traditional Cultural Expressions in India'

Virtual expert lecture on 'Introduction to Traditional Knowledge and Traditional Cultural Expressions in India' on September 6, 2023 by Dr. Debmita Mondal, Assistant Professor of Law, HNLU, Raipur She explained the cultural legacy and traditions of indigenous people which hold a very important place. How the culture and tradition form the basis of the heritage of our nation, and we, as a community, are largely possessive about it. However, there are a lot of things related to these people, which does not fall under the legal ambit and because of this in the number of cases, the indigenous people are the ones who ultimately suffer. The protection of Traditional cultural expressions is one such thing. In the past few years, international bodies such as WIPO and UNESCO have laid down some rules in this regard. These rules are followed by various countries as well. She also emphasised that IPR emerged as a global law to exploit economic benefits from creation or production. However, this logic seems to falter in cases of TCEs, where a large portion of these cultural expressions are unregulated, undermining the potential economic benefits of their creation or production. She discussed few cases explaining the judicial aspect on the topic.

He addressed contemporary issues such as the Uniform Civil Code and encouraged students to pursue research based on International Law, Morality, and IKS. The event concluded with Prof. Subbarao's insightful remarks, urging students to combine knowledge with wisdom. His contributions inaugurated Sanskrit Week, enlightening students and fostering critical thinking.

Jusmanthan Vaadah 2.0

The Centre for Shaastric studies and Research in Law (CSSRL) of Maharashtra National Law University, Nagpur (MNLU-Nagpur) organised the second edition of JusManthan Vaadah – An Indic Knowledge Systems based Debate Competition over a period of three days from 3rd to 5th April 2023 on the motion: “India’s G20 Presidency is a Favourable Opportunity to Manifest Indic Knowledge Systems (IKS) as its Soft Power”.

JusManthan Vaadah is a quarterly event conducted by CSSRL under the Research Project granted to it by the Indian Knowledge Systems (IKS) Division of the All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE) at Ministry of Education, Government of India.

Prof. (Dr.) Vijender Kumar, the Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor of MNLU, Nagpur chiefly patronises all the activities of CSSRL. Prof. (Dr.) Himanshu Pandey, Professor of Law, MNLU-Nagpur is the Principal Investigator of IKS Research Project and Ila Sudame, Centre Coordinator, CSSRL, MNLU-Nagpur as the IKS Research Project Associate.

JusManthan Vaadah creates a unique interface for exploring IKS in the context of the most contemporary happenings of the modern society. Vaadins from across various batches spoke for and against the motion finding motivation from the value statement of JusManthan Vaadah i.e. Anishiddham Anumatam (What is unopposed shall be considered as agreed upon). Researchers from across the country presented their papers that explored the Indic knowledge base extensively for the contemporary issues and challenges of law. Total 19 teams participated in the Vaadah out of which 8 teams qualified for the semi-finals. Audience witnessed heated debating in the final rounds on 5th April which were judged by Prof. Chamarti Ramesh Kumar (Deputy Registrar, MNLU-Nagpur), Prof. Madhukar Sharma (Assistant Professor of Political Science, MNLU-Nagpur) and Prof. Sunita Wadhawan (Assistant Professor, Department of Yogic Sciences, Kavikulaguru Kalidas Sanskrit University, Ramtek).

CSSRL gave away 4 awards for the second edition of JusManthan Vaadah. The award for Best Interjector was bagged by Mr. Chanakya Kene. Ms. Bhavya Pokhriyal won the award of Best Speaker for the motion. Mr. Mandar Latpate was awarded the Best Speaker Against the Motion. The team of Mr. Mandar Latpate and Ms. Avanti Mahajan bagged the award of Best Team of JusManthan Vaadah 2.0. All student members and associates of CSSRL along with the JusManthan Vaadah 2.0 student coordinating team of Mr. Deepandru Singh, Ms. Tushti Sontakke and Mr. Jainendra Narayan Singh ensured the smooth functioning of the event.

Sanskrit Week Celebrations

The Centre for Shaastric Studies and Research in Law (CSSRL) at Maharashtra National Law University, Nagpur (MNLU-Nagpur) commenced the celebration of Sanskrit Week on the propitious day of Shraavan Poornima, which is globally acclaimed as the World Sanskrit Day. This week-long event comprised of a diverse range of engaging activities through its varied platforms of JusManthan like JusManthan Manchah, JusManthan Anveshanam – A Symposium of Research Posters, JusManthan Vaadah – A National Level Bilingual IKS Based Debate Competition along with our first ever CSSRL Podcast. MNLU-Nagpur through its CSSRL is the awardee of an IKS Research Project awarded by the Indian Knowledge Systems (IKS) Division at AICTE of the Ministry of Education, Government of India.

JusManthan Manchah 2.0

The Sanskrit week began with the JusManthan Manchah, a platform that enables academic conversation between the students and a distinguished expert by creating a relatively informal environment in consonance with its value statement – ‘Tamaso Ma Jyotirgamaya’ - May we be led from Darkness to Light. Distinguished expert for the second Edition of JusManthan Manchah was Prof. (Dr.) T. V. Subbarao, Professor-Emeritus, VIPS Delhi. Prof. (Dr.) Himanshu Pandey - senior professor of law at MNLU-Nagpur and Principal Investigator of IKS Research Project welcomed and felicitated Prof. (Dr.) Rao. Dr. Ila Sudame, Centre Coordinator, CSSRL and IKS Research Project Associate gave the Manchah Parichay. CSSRL Sahachari Arya Mishra, CSSRL Sadasya Tushti Sontakke, CSSRL Sadasya Srijan Tripathi and CSSRL Sahachari Mandar Latpate conducted the JusManthan Manchah interaction on a variety of themes like west-centrism of education system, integrating Indic methodologies with the modern research, uniform civil code (UCC), ideals of feminism in IKS, rebranding and patenting of IKS by the west and possible role of Traditional Knowledge Act in preventing monetisation of the traditional knowledge both in India and abroad, and his vision for future of the nation and expectations from the present generation. Towards the end of the academic dialogue, Prof. Rao emphasised that, “Knowledge is not power unless it is accompanied by wisdom.” The JusManthan Manchah concluded on a positive note with some thought-provoking questions for the students to delve upon. Prof. Dr. Rao through his insights on a variety of subjects illuminated the consciousness of the students and flagged off the Sanskrit week.

Capacity Building Programme on ‘Sanskrit Based Legal Studies: A Way Forward for Modern Legal Education

With the idea of ‘Aano Bhadraha Kratavo Yantu Vishwatah’ – let noble thoughts come from all directions, CSSRL successfully conducted a Capacity Building Programme on ‘Sanskrit Based Legal Studies: A Way Forward for Modern Legal Education.’ The program aimed to explore the rich heritage of Nyaayshastra and its significance in modern legal education. By delving into ancient Indian legal systems and Sanskrit texts, the initiative sought to bridge the gap between traditional knowledge and contemporary legal practices. The occasion was graced by esteemed Chief Guest and Key Note Speaker, Prof. (Dr.) Hareram Tripathi, Hon’ble Vice-Chancellor, Kavikulaguru Kalidas Sanskrit University, Ramtek and; Guest of Honour Prof. (Dr.) Madhusudan Penna. The experts gave an exposition on how the various elements of Nyaayashastra can be explored for modern education. Further, they also highlighted the importance of bridging the gap between traditional and modern methods of knowledge analysis. Their gracious presence contributed to an unforgettable and enriching experience for all attendees. Prof. (Dr.) Himanshu Pandey delivered the welcome address and Dr. Ila Sudame proposed the formal vote of thanks.

JusManthan Anveshanam - A Symposium of Research Posters

CSSRL also launched a new platform of JusManthan – JusManthan Anveshanam which is a research poster symposium on Indigenous Perspectives on Law: Sanskrit as a Source of Legal Wisdom. The platform aimed to meet the purpose of research i.e. knowledge should be transmitted to the common man for which it came up with the idea of presenting research in the form of creative and visually appealing posters. Participants presented their research on how Sanskrit serves as a source of legal wisdom, shedding light on its unique contributions to legal systems across history and potential applications in the modern legal scape. The various topics on which research poster presentations were done.

JusManthan Nukkad Natak

The Capacity building program was followed by the thought-provoking street play set by CSSRL Sahachari Sahil Joshi and CSSRL Sahachari Mandar Latpate on the importance of Nyaayshastra for Legal Studies and Misconceptions Surrounding IKS. While addressing the misconceptions surrounding Indic Knowledge Systems (IKS) also highlighted their potential to enrich modern legal thinking.

JusManthan Vaadah – A National Level Bilingual IKS Based Debate Competition

The week was also marked by the semi-finals of JusManthan Vaadah, a prestigious National Level IKS Based Bilingual Debate Competition, on the motion - "Sanskrit Creates a Conducive Environment for Advancing the Concept of Gender Fluidity." The competition provided a dynamic platform for young legal minds to engage in lively debates and foster critical thinking while exploring the potential of Sanskrit in addressing contemporary socio-legal concepts. The results of the semi-finals were declared the same day and four out of the eight teams made it to the finals to be held on August 5th, 2023.

The Final Round of the Rashtra Stariya JusManthan Vaadah which was graced by the presence of our esteemed judges Dr. Ruta Dharmadhikari, Dr. Kalyani Kale, and Ms. Ami Ganatra, all women excelling in their fields of English, Sanskrit and Indic Knowledge respectively. Prof. (Dr.) Himanshu Pandey felicitated and welcomed them and initiated the debate following his welcome address. The motion for the final round was “Sanskrit Based Indic Jurisprudence will Enable Fostering Ideals of Secularism in the Truest Sense.” Most speakers optimally utilizing the opportunity of the bilingual nature of the debate chose to deliver their arguments in Hindi. The finals not only saw heated interjection rounds but also witnessed the presence of mind of our wise participants to attract the audience’s attention by rebutting through shero-shayari and humorous yet academically sound rebuttals. The Best Team Award for was bagged by Institute of Law Nirma University, comprising of Shubhankar Bhandari and Yash Trivedi. The Best Team Runnerup was of Vivekananda Education Society’s Law School, Mumbai, comprising of Lavanya and Shivam Yadav. The award for the Best Vaadin (Speaker for the Motion) was Shubhankar Bhandari while the Best Prati-Vaadin (Speaker Against the Motion) was Lavanya. Shubhankar Bhandari also bagged the Best Interjector award and was in a way highest achiever of the day. The teams received glimmering trophies and cash prizes worth Rs. 20,000.

CSSRL Podcast

The final day of the Sanskrit week began with the highly anticipated CSSRL Podcast with Ms. Ami Ganatra, celebrated author of ‘Mahabharat Unravelling’ and ‘Ramayana Unravelling’. The podcast began with the curiosity of the students as to what made her shift from being a management professional to a full-time author on IKS to an engaging discussion on Dharma, Ramayan, Mahabharat, and debunking myths. The podcast unravelled the unseen side of the itihasa.

JusManthan Vastu-Vinimay - CSSRL Merchandise

It is necessitated that the young minds appreciate and identify the contemporary relevance of shaastric wisdom as a parallel and indigenous knowledge system. Thus, in the spirit of Sanskrit week, CSSRL offered merchandise that was designed in a way that creates greater visibility of shaastric ideas and promote the wisdom in a youthful way. An exclusive collection of CSSRL Merchandise on the theme Karmanyevaadhikaraste (Your karma is your only right) was made available for visitors to explore. The merchandise in the form of t-shirts and coffee mugs were offered on nominal prices.

The Sanskrit week at MNLU Nagpur saw a captivating and informative array of events. The days were packed with a number of events to engage students in Sanskrit based activities in the most trending ways. As the Sanskrit Week celebrations came to a close, CSSRL made the academic world marvel about the beauty and richness of this ancient language. Bidding farewell to these celebrations, students carried the spirit of Sanskrit with them in their hearts and minds. Most significantly, they made a commitment to continue to explore its vastness, draw inspiration from its timeless wisdom, and strive to integrate its teachings into their daily lives. Jayatu Sanskritam! Jayatu Bharatam!

10. Frontiers of IKS in Modern Education

Shaastrotsav 2.0

The Centre for Shaastric Studies and Research in Law (CSSRL) created platform for some unprecedented academic deliberations where tradition met contemporary laws and legal practice. In it's second edition of CSSRL's flagship event – Shaastrotsav 2.0, JusManthan Nyaayalaya Pradarshanam– The first ever moot court demonstration based on Indic principles was organized. CSSRL also organized the first ever legal shaastraarth pradarshanam – JusManthan Shaastraarth Sadas in the honor of Former Chief Justice of India, Founding Chancellor and Professor Emeritus of MNLU-Nagpur – Hon'ble Shri Justice Sharad A. Bobde.

Workshop on Indic Principles for Mooting

Prior to the actual demonstration of the moot court on Indic principles, a workshop on Indic Principles of Mooting was conducted with the objective to introduce the students to principles of Indian logic flowing from Nyaayashaastra and equip them with the Indic methods and techniques of argumentation flowing specifically from vaada-vidhi. The students also learnt to appreciate the difference between vaada, jalpa and vitanda types of arguments.

In this workshop, the students honed their skills of developing arguments in the pancha-avayava syllogism of Nyaayashaastra. Further, they were sensitised about the various fallacies of reasoning or hetavabhaasas and points of defeat or nigrahasthaanas for the purposes of refuting the opponent's arguments. The participants of this workshop applied their minds to the Mimaamsa Principles of Interpretation and tried to incorporate them in their arguments relating to statutory interpretation.

JusManthan Nyaayalaya Pradarshanam

The highlight of this event was the one-of-its-kind and first-ever IKS based Moot Court Demonstration. This novel endeavour of CSSRL was being launched with the objective to create awareness amongst law students about the IKS based principles, methods and techniques of mooting and also to have them actually practise those by applying them to a contemporary problem of law in this competition. In this unique moot court, the principles of logic, interpretation, evidence, argumentation, legal reasoning etc., were relied upon exclusively from the IKS like Nyaayashaastra, Meemaamsa, Vaadah-Shaastra etc. Suitable rules and guidelines regarding the same are proposed to be curated along with its own unique IKS based evaluation pattern.

In the JusManthan Nyaayalaya Pradarshanam, students of MNLU-Nagpur demonstrated their moot skills based on Indic principles, methods and techniques from Nyaayashastra and Mimaamsa. The students presented a civil matter and criminal matter while adopting Indic logic and method of argumentation. Through this demonstration, the students got a platform to practise their skills and theories acquired from the workshop and perform before a panel of experts who guided them in ways to improvise effectively.

The demonstration was staged before an esteemed panel consisting of Hon'ble Shri Justice Sharad A. Bobde, Former Chief Justice of India; Hon'ble Shri Justice B.N. Srikrishna, Former Judge, Supreme Court of India; Prof. (Dr.) Srinivas Varakhedi, Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor, Central Sanskrit University, Delhi and Prof. (Dr.) Madhusudan Penna, Professor and Dean, Kavikulaguru Kalidas Sanskrit University, Ramtek. The panelists gave their valuable remarks to the organizing team and students and appreciated the new ventures of CSSRL. The mooters for this demonstration were Avish Mittal, Shejal Agrawal, Pragati Yadav and Rohan Dharmadhikari. Students Jeevesh Dubey and Aradhya Singh were the comperes for this event.

JusManthan Shaastraarth Pradarshanam

CSSRL organised the first ever JusManthan Shaastraartha Sadas between premiers from the field of law and academia. Shaastraartha is an Indic method of debating which gathers its touchstones from pramaanas – the means of valid knowledge, pancha-avayava – syllogistic presentation, hetavabhaasa – fallacies of reasoning, nigrahasthaanas – points of defeat etc. It is an intellectual extravaganza that promises to illuminate the corridors of our minds, encourages one to develop scientific temper and, fosters critical thinking skills. With the experts of the relevant domains engaging in a rigorous debate over a contemporary issue employing Indic methods and techniques, this proposed event promises to appropriately demonstrate the enduring power of knowledge. This event, CSSRL organised in the honour of the Former Chief Justice of India; Founding Chancellor and Professor Emeritus, MNLU-Nagpur, Hon'ble Shri Justice Sharad A. Bobde.

In JusManthan Shaastraarth Pradarshanam the stalwarts themselves engaged in an academic deliberation on the subject “Evolving Indian Social Morality on Homosexuality in the Context of an Emerging Need to Recraft the Institution of Marriage”. Justice B.N. Srikrishna was the Madhyastha for this Shaastraartha Pradarshanam while Prof. (Dr.) Srinivas Varakhedi and Prof. (Dr.) Madhusudan Penna presented the pakshas of Vaadin and Prati-Vaadin respectively. Through this intellectually stimulating pradarshanam the panel demonstrated various Indic principles, methods and techniques which the students can adopt and imbibe in their intellectual pursuits. Students Harshada Gaikwad and Kanishka Tiwari were the comperes for this event.

This event marks the closure of the intensely pursued Indian Knowledge Systems (IKS) Division Research Project awarded to MNLU-Nagpur by the IKS Division at AICTE, Ministry of Education, Government of India. The team of this project – Prof. (Dr.) Himanshu Pandey, Professor of Law and Principal Investigator; Dr. Ila Sudame, Project Associate and Centre Coordinator, CSSRL, MNLU-Nagpur presented their research report. Prof. (Dr.) Himanshu Pandey delivered the vote of thanks. All the events of CSSRL are conducted under the gracious patronage of Prof. (Dr.) Vijender Kumar, Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor, MNLU-Nagpur. These are aimed to execute the vision of Former Chief Justice of India and Founding Chancellor – Hon'ble Shri Justice Sharad A. Bobde.

JusManthan Shaastraartha Pradarshanam and JusManthan Nyaayalaya Pradarshanam were a part of the larger Shaastrotsav - A Shaastric Wisdom Fest, an annual event organized by CSSRL. Through this platform, CSSRL endeavors to promote a deeper understanding of Indic knowledge systems and their relevance to contemporary legal frameworks. This event marks a significant stride in the exploration of Indic knowledge systems and their relevance to contemporary legal discourse. It aims to foster rigorous academic discussions on pertinent societal issues through the lens of traditional wisdom. CSSRL of MNLU-Nagpur looks forward to continue pursuing its vision of innovating in law by exploring shaastric wisdom through its pathbreaking academic ventures.

The aim was to explore effective governance mechanisms, international perspectives, and challenges in enforcing labour protections across different sectors and regions.

10.7 Mental Health Activities at the University

The Mental Health Army (MHA) continues to be an integral part of the university's commitment to emotional and psychological well-being. This report outlines the key activities and observances conducted during the academic year 2023–2024.

Due to an unforeseen transition in the counselling team during the reporting period, the detailed activity records and documentation maintained by the previous counsellor were not submitted to the administration. As a result, this report relies on reconstructed information from event planning archives, previous emails sent and some of the reports saved by members.

1. Mental Health Camp- July 2023

Invitee: Ms. Kartika Jamdar (University Guest Counsellor) and Ms. Rowena Phillips

The Mental Health Army (MHA) of NLU Nagpur successfully conducted a Two-Day Mental Health Camp at the start of the new academic year to support incoming students in adjusting to a new environment and academic demands. Aimed at fostering a sense of inclusivity and safe space, the camp featured counselling sessions and interactive de-stressing activities such as “Fact or Myth” to combat mental health misinformation, a handprint art station, and an appreciation board for student reflections. A group session was also held to address common student concerns.

2. World Mental Health Day – October 10, 2023

Invitee: Ms. Kartika Jamdar (University Guest Counsellor) and Ms. Rowena Phillips (Former University Counsellor)

This day was observed with a campus-wide effort to foster conversations around mental health and access to care. A mental health camp spanning across two days was organised to ensure that the Students of the University get mental health care without interruptions and to ensure large scale back-to-back counselling sessions.

3. Inductions 2023-24

The MHA successfully conducted its induction process for the academic year 2023–24, welcoming new members from the incoming batch of 2023–28 and other batches. With the aim of building a team of responsible and empathetic mental health advocates to spread awareness and challenge stigma across the university, the induction involved a two-round interview process. The first round was conducted by senior members and mentors, while the second round was led by University Counsellor Ms. Rowena Phillips, who assessed candidates for their sensitivity and readiness to handle mental health-related concerns. Following the interviews, 20 students from the first year and additional members from other batches were selected. An orientation session was held on November 8, 2023, to introduce the new recruits to the workings and responsibilities of the Army.

4. Mental Health Camp- December 2023

Invitee: Ms. Kartika Jamdar (University Guest Counsellor) and Ms. Rowena Phillips (Former University Counsellor)

The Mental Health Army (MHA) of NLU Nagpur organized a three-day mental health camp aligned with the end-semester examinations to address the heightened stress and anxiety commonly experienced during this period. Recognizing the impact of exam-related pressure on both students and non-teaching staff, the initiative aimed to promote mental well-being and encourage healthy coping strategies.

The camp began on November 30, 2023, with dedicated sessions for non-teaching staff, followed by student-focused counselling on December 1 on campus and December 2 at A1 Residency, Dongargaon. Through individual and group counselling facilitated by University Counsellor Ms. Rowena Phillips and Guest Counsellor Ms. Kartika Jamdar, the camp witnessed active participation, bolstered by effective campus-wide promotion.

5. International Day of Happiness – March 20, 2024

Invitee: Ms. Kartika Jamdar (University Guest Counsellor) and Ms. Rowena Phillips (Former University Counsellor)

This observance was centred around cultivating joy, gratitude, and community connection. A three-day mental health camp was organized with the objective of providing uninterrupted mental health support to students and facilitating a series of back-to-back counselling sessions for wider outreach and accessibility.

In addition to individual and group counselling sessions, the Mental Health Army introduced a vibrant lineup of activities to encourage participation and reflection. These included a painting competition, a poetry-writing competition, a movie screening, and an appreciation board where students shared heartfelt messages of gratitude and joy. A Tree of Colours: Thumb Painting activity invited students to contribute to a collective artwork symbolizing unity and diversity in emotional expression. To enhance the sense of belonging and celebration, a Theme Day was also held, with students encouraged to wear yellow or sky blue, colours associated with optimism and calm. Altogether, the camp created a safe and expressive space on campus, blending mental health awareness with creativity and collective healing.
